WILL CONVEVE LEGISLATURE

Governor to Call Extra Session if State Troops Are to Stay in Service

WOULD PROVIDE EXTRA PAY FOR GUARDSMEN

As Was Done When National Guard Responded to Call in 1898—Matter Urged by Col. J. G. Estey of This Town.

MONTPELIER, June 21.—While the military department of Vermont has bent every effort for the past 48 hours to put the state troops in readiness for mobilization at Fort Ethan Allen tomorrow, the executive department has concerned itself with the possible necessity of making provision for assisting the families and dependents of enlisted men and there seems every reason to believe that Gov. Charles W. Gates will find it necessary to convene the general assembly in extraordinary session as was done at the opening of the Spanish-American war.

Adjutant Gen. Lee S. Tillotson of St. Albans has been in conference with Gov. Gates regarding the necessity of providing aid for such of Vermont militia as may be mustered into the federal service. At the close of the conference at midnight the secretary of civil and military affairs, Maj. Benjamin Gates, gave out the following statement from Gov. Gates:

"I shall call a special session of the legislature just as soon as it appears that the state troops are to be held in federal service any length of time. War has not been declared and the nature and length of service of our state troops has not been sufficiently determined to justify the expense and trouble of a special session immediately. I do wish to say, however, that if the present situation is prolonged in any degree that the state should provide for additional pay for enlisted men and for any exigencies that may arise.

"The state should also amply provide for the families and dependents of enlisted men. This seems imperative as the members of the national guard, married or unmarried, are ordered into service by the President and are obliged to respond. There is no option on the part of the individual as there was with the volunteers of the Spanish-American war.

"The present situation demands our serious attention and it is my desire that Vermont perform her full duty in the present trouble with Mexico that the protection of the American people may be assured."

The interest of Col. J. Gray Estey of Brattleboro in the Vermont National Guard was manifested yesterday when the former head of the First Vermont infantry wired Gov. Gates as follows:

"I earnestly urge you to consider the question of taking the necessary action to provide extra, or state, pay for the Vermont troops responding to the President's call. I believe all citizens will approve the action at this time as was done in 1898."

In May, 1898, shortly after the outbreak of the Spanish-American war when the Vermont militia was called to the colors, Gov. Josiah Grant convened the legislature in extraordinary session, the general assembly meeting in Montpelier on May 5 and adjourning on May 7. The assembly voted an appropriation of $200,000 for war expenses and $10,000 for the expenses of the session, the first appropriation to cover the expenses of a special act passed on the second day of the session to pay all Vermont soldiers $7 a month, while in the federal service.

An attempt was made to put through several bills during the special session of 1898 and three or four became laws before a resolution was adopted to frame no business, but that for which the assembly was convened in extraordinary session.

METHODIST MINISTER KILLED.

Rev. Roscoe Sanderson, Retired, Struck by Train Near Hampton, N. H.

HAMPTON, N. H., June 20.—Considerable mystery surrounds the death of the Rev. Roscoe Sanderson, former district superintendent of the Dover district of Methodist church, whose body was found alongside the tracks of the Boston & Maine, near this town.

He left his home Sunday afternoon, and upon his failure to return the family became alarmed. Later, searching parties were organized by the townspeople and former parishioners of Mr. Sanderson. After a long search the body was found beside the track. Apparently he had been struck by a passing train but how he happened to be in the locality where his body was found is not explained.

He had been an active Methodist minister for over 50 years, and was district superintendent of the Dover district from 1904 to 1909. He retired from active work this year and had purchased a farm at Methuen, where he anticipated taking up his residence. A widow and daughter survive.

NORTHFIELD AVIATION MEET.

Peary and Other Distinguished Guests Expected For July 8.

The plans for the aviation meet to be held at Norwich university, Northfield, July 6, are well under way. Major Wallace Batchelder of the Aero Club of America, who has been directed to have this meeting held, has arranged to have Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, the discoverer of the North Pole, present to assist at this meet. Admiral Peary is chairman of the committee on "aerial coast patrol and landing places" of the Aero Club of America and his duties are now confined entirely to aviation and aeronautics.

At the meet July 6, it is planned to effect a temporary organization, elect a committee on constitutions and by-laws and take up the question of the classes of membership, amount of initiation fee and dues for each class, and the question of whether or not an Aero club of Vermont shall be organized, and if so, whether it shall become a part of, or affiliation with, the Aero club of America as a part of "The Federation Aeronaute Internationale."

The nations having clubs that are constituent parts of "The Federation Aeronaute Internationale" are the following—Argentina Republic, Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Egypt, France, Germany, Great Britain, Hungary, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States.

Governor Gates, some of the justices of supreme court, some of the superior judges, some members of the present senate and of the present house of representatives and many of the leading men of the state have already expressed a desire to become charter members of the Aero Club of Vermont.

James Hartness of Springfield, the president of the Jones & Lamson Machine Co. and a member of the Vermont education commission is one of the leading moving spirits in this work. Mr. Hartness is an inventor and a scientist of international reputation, having been president of different scientific and engineering international societies and associations. Mr. Hartness has for some months been engaged in deep study of aviation and aeronautics and has been taking a course in the science and learning to fly at Garden City, L. I.

The Grand Army of the Republic, the Sons of Veterans, the Spanish War Veterans, the Greater Vermont association and all boards of trade and all public spirited organizations in the state are requested to co-operate and send representatives to the meet. The president and the secretary of the Aero Club of America are to attend and it is expected that a Curtis or Thomas biplane will make flights during the meet at Northfield.

KEENE COMPANIES START.

Civil War Veterans Lead Militia to Station on Way to Concord.

KEENE, N. H., June 21.—Fully 5,000 persons lined the streets yesterday afternoon as Companies G and H, 1st N. H. I. L., marched to the station to entrain for the camping grounds at Concord. The militia was headed by the Keene City band and a group of 25 gray-haired Civil war veterans.

The companies were commanded as follows: Company G, Capt. Arthur P. O'Leary, Lieuts. Edward Carroll and Bernard J. Gilbo; Company H, Capt. Walter C. Ellis, Lieuts. William B. Lett and Emory Holbrook. Twenty-five men, recruited since the sounding of the alarm 24 hours previous, were examined by Capt. Charles S. Walker, M. D. and went with the regular men. Each company has detailed a member to remain in Keene to take care of recruits.

Suited to the Occasion.

Automobiles took the party over the road to Gilsum, Marlow and Acworth, where a stop was made for dinner, and thence to Bellows Falls and return via Cold River, Walpole and Westmoreland, covering about 60 miles of the state highway. Division Engineer C. M. Brooks was in charge.

MIDDLEBURY BESTOWS DEGREES

Vermont College Honors Numerous Prominent Men.

MIDDLEBURY, June 21.—Middlebury college conferred 71 degrees in course today; seven Masters of Arts and 64 Bachelors of Arts and Sciences. The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon Rev. Thomas G. Thompson of Schenectady, N. Y., and upon Rev. Arthur H. Bradford of Rutland. Prof. Albert D. Mead of Brown university, a graduate of Middlebury, received the degree of Doctor of Science. Howard Elliot, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, received the degree of Doctor of Laws, as did also John Godfrey Saxe of New York, the college thus recognizing the centennial of the birth of the poet of the same name, who graduated in 1839.

At the corporation dinner addresses were delivered by Mr. Bradford, Mr. Elliot and Mr. Saxe.

PERU.

Preaches Farewell Sermon.

Rev. Stephen S. Wood preached his farewell sermon in the Congregational church here Sunday morning on the text, It Is Finished. He reminded the people that ministers are soon forgotten, like friendships of the past, and that sermons soon fade from the memory. Then he urged them that after he and his words and deeds were forgotten they should remember the Christ to whom he pointed them.

There was a large audience in spite of the threatening clouds and thunder of the early morning. Mr. Wood has a vacation of over two months before beginning his new pastorate. He has not yet decided whether he will spend it in the mountains or at the seashore.

AMERICA'S REAL ENEMIES.

Ignorance, Insect Pests and Extravagance, Says Official.

"The real enemies of America are not to be found in Europe, Mexico and Japan, but within our own borders in the form of ignorance, insect pests and extravagance," says O. H. Benson of the United States department of agriculture. "We ought to have a standing army of 6,000,000 boys and girls in our army of preparedness."

"In these days of modern transportation, increasing wealth, multiplicity of entertainments, it is well that we consider the education that points home. The boys' and girls' garden movement is a back-to-the-home education, and helps parents in the crystallization of those sacred sentiments that lead to a life-time value in inspiration and production in the home, but important arts of the domestic life. It is not an uncommon thing to find most of our children, even of the grammar school age, away from home all day Saturday, Sunday and much of the night time, and even when they are caught at home, they are usually in charge of servants, grandmothers, or broken fragments of the domestic unit.

"The American people are the most thriftest and wasteful on earth. We waste as much food products in the average American city in a single day as would feed a city of equal size for the morrow.

"The Boys' and Girls' club work is a movement designed to help to educate the boys and girls to be more thrifty and economical than the generation now in charge of affairs. The best way to teach thrift and the proper use of money, is to teach through the home project work, how to produce a dollar as a result of the member's own investment of money, time and energy. No one can properly spend a dollar until he has first learned the language and the cost of production."
